Coaches Comment

The women's first team has come off three wins in all competitions to face a strong test this Saturday, as we host Palmerston North Marist at Karori Park. Both teams have won two from three matches in the W-League so far.

Marist have dealt out two thumpings in the early stages of the W-League: 6-1 against Seatoun on match-day 1 and 7-0 against Wests on match-day 2. This sends a clear message that the Wharfies will have to be defensively very solid, organised, and disciplined to keep a clean sheet.

This is a crucial match for the women's team and should provide a good barometer for where we sit in the W-League compared with our rivals. A win on Saturday will put us at second on the table, from where we can put pressure on early leaders Wairarapa United. However, a positive outcome will rely on the team putting in its staunchest performance yet, working off a solid defensive base first and foremost, and taking extra care of the ball through the midfield.

At the other end of the field, the Wharfies just need to continue creating the goal-scoring opportunities we've been creating in recent matches and aim for a slightly higher finishing rate. Recent matches have proven the Wharfies have no shortage of goal-scorers – eight players are already on the score-sheets this season – we'll be looking to make sure our expansive attacking style will create many goal threats from several points of attack.

We're expecting Marist to make us work harder than ever. We welcome them to Karori Park, we will rise to the challenge, and we look forward to an excellent match.

Cheers,
Bill

Central League Coaches Comment

Good afternoon all,

Thanks to all of you for your support today. Welcome to Wellington Olympic and all the best.

We have come to the 1/3 point in the season. With the weekend off last week it's been a good time to reflect on the progress since this time last year. At this point last year, the team had 3 points, scored 14 and conceded 23. Today, we have 5 more points, have scored 1 more goal and conceded 7 less goals. Our goals have also come from across the park so far this year. This is exciting.

Now we want to improve and build on this progress.

Over the last few weeks we lost a few players to university holidays and other commitments. We've now got them back, as well as exciting additions to the squad. Competition for places is rife and I've been pleased with the intensity of the training sessions!

We hope to see you in the clubrooms after the game for the book pre-launch event and to begin celebrations in what is a massive 125th year for the club!

Good luck to all Wharfie teams.

Catch you after!

Sam

Club Captain Comment

Welcome all Wharfies on this special day.

We have some great footy in store for you today. We have our Ray White W-League team, who have been going from strength to strength, taking on a very good Palmerston NM team. We then have Integration Works Waterside Karori playing old rivals Olympic.

A special Wharf welcome to coach Easthope and outfielder Leo. Interesting to have those two guys here on a day where we tip our hat at the club turning 125 years old. It hits home the life changing effects that mere club football can have. Shaun was the Karori coach when David Beattie, a former club Chairman, mentioned to someone, who mentioned to someone else, that he had heard mention of an Argentinian who had played a bit of footy before and was holidaying in NZ for a while. Shaun chased up this lead and discovered the legend that we all know - Leo Villa! Now I dare say that if Leo hadn't joined the Wharf and been adopted by a new Wharf family, he would be somewhere else on the planet and not in little old NZ!

Being involved in the 125th book and planning for our pre-launch tonight, stories like this are not rare - but probably overlooked. Waterside names like Spud Murphy and Jimmy Clark had their lives transformed when they moved country to play football for a little club in the corner of the globe.

Not all the impacts of club footy have been at such a global level. Life-long friends are made, life opportunities created, stories are provided for around the drink water-cooler... I welcome you to reflect on those today...

Cheers
Greenie
